SINGLE COPY 5c

3d polio KO Sun.

Hancock County will be out Sunday to establish a new first in Mississippi: the first county to successfully KO polio.

Six feeding stations will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. to administer the third and final dose of oral Sabina vaccine. Between 9,000 county residents got their first and second doses last spring in turnouts the sponsoring county medical society, Joyces and American Legion estimated at nearly 90 per cent of the population.

There'll be even a greater effort at a big showing this time since neighboring Harrison and Jackson Counties will have their first doses this Sunday and Hancock hopes to top them percentage-wise.

Stations will be Bay St. Louis Youth Center, Waveland School, Clearmont-Lakeshore Youth Center, Logtown School, Hancock North Central School and Volcano C. Jones School.

School buses will run their regular routes to these stations starting at 1 p.m. Sunday to provide transportation for those who do not have their own means to get there. Announcement Parish will provide a shuttle bus from Kiln to HNC between 1 and 4 p.m.

Dr. John B. Levens, KO polio chairman for the medical society, said sponsors are asking a contribution of 25 cents from each individual taking the three doses.

Supervisors hike taxes 3 mills, add 2 levies

Taxes go up three mills for Hancock County beginning next Jan. 1 under the rates set by the board of supervisors at its budget meeting last Friday.

No existing levies were cut. The hikes are one mill for the newly created ports and harbors commission, one-half mill for the new mosquito control commission, an increase of one-half mill to the advertising fund and restoration of one of the two mills lopped off the hospital bond fund last year to meet those financial obligations.

"If we have to put it on, let's put it on," advised Beat 1 Supervisor H. G. Dean at the conclusion of a lengthy discussion of the over-all picture. "No use sitting around looking sad."

Beat 3 supervisor Charles J. Lovingshouse voted against the mosquito control levy and Beat 5 member R. G. Hubbard opposed creation of a position under the advertising fund which entailed raising that millage to cover the salary and provide for other use of the fund, including erection of signs noting Hancock as the home of NASA's Mississippi Test Operations.

rations which had been approved previously.

The board turned down a request from the county board of education to raise its millage to provide funds for additional teachers required by the MTO impact but left the additional one mill of school district maintenance funds, added last year to help the system pay off its transportation capital expenditures. The supervisors noted the school system had defaulted on two payments of loans authorized last year for new buses which Superintendent K. G. McCarty said had been an oversight. The school board Saturday adopted a resolution calling for more millage but it was too late for consideration by the supervisors as a tentative Monday session was called off.

Dean moved to up the advertising levy to one mill after earlier gaining approval to employ Mrs. Charles A. Russ, Jr., widow of the late supervisor whom Dean succeeded, at $200 a month to provide information to potential newcomers on the advantages of residing in Hancock County. Dean recalled he had made the proposal to use Mrs. Russ' talents when he first assumed office late last year and was told to wait until budget-setting time. Joining Dean in confirming the plan were Lovingshouse of Beat 3 and James Nease of Beat 4 while Hubbard dissented. I. M. Frierson of Beat 2 was absent due to illness.

The board went along with levying one mill for the ports and harbors commission after hearing from chairman H. H. Shattuck to implement the first phase of an industrial survey and put the county in a position to get two mills back from the state under this legislation.

Dean and Hubbard both expressed the opinion the price quoted the port body by Michael Baker, Inc., industrial engineers, for a survey of the county was

JOIN SJA FACULTY

Appointments of two new faculty members at St. Joseph Academy to be announced by Sister Eugenia, principal, Mrs. R. F. Montoya, Jr., will teach high school English and Mrs. Joseph Korman will teach business education.

GOP COMES TO THE BAY - Stanford Morse, of Pass Christian, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in the November general election, and Mrs. Morse, at far right, join local GOP forces for opening of party headquarters Monday in North Beach store formerly occupied by Dickson Drug. Richard Hadden, campaign chairman for Morse and gubernatorial hopeful Rubal Phillips, said office will be manned from 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Volunteers are needed. Morse, in a brief opening speech, discounted arguments that a two-party system in Mississippi would create "radicalism" and contended view is "result of a purely selfish desire to hold on to the little influence they now have."

McCarty protests to Demos

Kenneth G. McCarty on Monday filed application with the county democratic executive committee asking for certification of Robert F. Lader as nominee for superintendent of education and asking for a reelection of eight boxes involving seven precincts. The action followed several days of checking all precinct boxes in the county by McCarty and his attorney, Joe Blass, Jr., witnessed by Lader and attorney, Randall Jones, Pass Christian, and Robert Buntin, Bay St. Louis.

McCarty said his recount would be won by 17 votes—17 for McCarty, the incumbent, and 2,690 for Lader—when the recount was held. He said the democratic committee had the second August primary and he got 2,732 votes to Lader's 2,740. The committee wanted to the first recount when the votes separated the two on the unofficial returns. Joseph V. Colson, Democratic chairman, said he expects to call committee meeting early next week to consider the petition. No vote of five days is required by law.

The petition claims that in 31 boxes in the county the votes were received a second time by the same individual which is against the law and asks for a new election in those boxes. A new set of managers under the committee rescinds the

Cindy's rain delays MTO

Construction crews at Mississippi Test Operations were busy Wednesday draining water from low-lying areas after the fringe of Hurricane Cindy dumped almost five inches there early this week.

Ferrill Construction Co. of Memphis, Tenn., which got the contract for the cryogenic dock two weeks ago started work on that project yesterday and the Corps of Engineers forces were busy moving into their partially completed building there. If a flagpole can be secured the Engineers plan a flag raising ceremony Friday, according to J. K. Glennon, press briefing officer.

Dredging of the river and harbor is going along on schedule, that being the only phase not interrupted by Cindy this week. Glennon said. T. L. James, contractor, has moved in a third dredge boat and should wrap up the river work by the Oct. 15 completion target. Besides improving the channel, sharp bends on the river are being eliminated so barges can haul in the huge Saturn engines more easily. In one place a mile and a half downstream from Gulfport, a mile has been cut from the river with a channel across 1,500 feet of swamp.

When the river job is finished the three dredges will concentrate on the harbor to finish that by the end of November. Meanwhile, NASA-MTO public relations reported a work force of 583 now at the site, a slight gain from last month. Breakdown is 30 at NASA, 31 at General Electric, 60 with the Engineers on the site, 43 with the Engineers' real estate office in Bay St. Louis, 14 at Raytheon and the weather bureau, and 405 with individual contractors.

During the week the Corps' Mobile district office announced award of a $1,369,000 job to General Piping, Inc., of Farmington, Mich., for a central heating plant to serve the support area. It also called for bids to be opened Oct. 8 for drilling a well for industrial water supply. A single bid for the well, received last month, was rejected as excessive.

Let court decide, redistricting view

The board of supervisors at its final meeting of the month last Friday took the position that any redistricting of Hancock County will have to come "from the court" as it turned down advice from its attorney to try to reach a positive decision in an effort to stop a temporary suit which went before the Mississippi Supreme Court Monday on appeal from a Chancery Court ruling here in February.

Lucien M. Gex, attorney for the supervisors, told the board that the suit was "a remote possibility" the state's top court would go along with the complainants' request to order election of large of beat officials so that all those nominated in the August Democratic primaries would have to run again. He expressed belief the matter could be continued until after the first of the year "if you all can agree on some type of redistricting."

Possibility of reaching some decision was raised Friday by R. G. Hubbard of Waveland, Beat 5 supervisor, after the supervisors agreed a major portion of their meeting Sept. 9 is on an

2 mistrials, three pen terms ordered by court

Mistrials were declared when juries failed to reach a verdict in two criminal cases before Circuit Court this week while two other defendants indicted by the September grand jury got five-year penitentiary terms, one got three years and a fourth got a 12-year suspended sentence. First mistrial was declared by Judge Leslie B. Grant in the case of Leo Bennett, appealing a justice of the peace court conviction for trespass. Bennett was his own lawyer. The second involved Leona Crawford, indicted for third degree arson in burning of a mattress while confined in the jail. She was remanded to jail on $1,000 bail. Court-appointed defense counsel, Gerald Gex, argued damaged merchandise was not over $125 in value. She had been jailed on a drunk and disorderly charge, her second local one.

Penit jury hearing both cases was composed of Alfred Huggins, Percy P. Lee, Julius Lechner, Oswald Cuevas, Oren J. Cuevas, Cecil E. Morrin, Lucy Morris, George J. Curtis, Jr., Wilford Berdago, Lawrence Young, Holman Perkins and Harris A. Lechner.

Leona Crawford, indicted by a previous grand jury for burglary and larceny in theft of a coin collection from Mrs. Ben Smith, pleaded guilty and got five years, to run concurrently with two other five year terms imposed by Judge Grant on new charges involving theft of rings from A. J. Loz and the LaNasa families in Waveland. Walker Massula, indicted in two of the cases with Gertsner, got five years on one while the other charge was passed to the files.

Architects named for addition at North Bay

First steps toward construction of a four classroom addition to North Bay Elementary as well as a stab at financing purchase of the 20-acre site on Blue Meadow Road for a new high school were taken by the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District trustees last Thursday night.

The board authorized employment of Gubre and Wagner, architects, to draw up preliminary plans and specifications for the North Bay addition and directed Superintendent Joe D. McCullough to make application to the state education finance commission for state funds whenever the plans and specifications are ready.

Beckman additional architect, office, toilet, etc., facilities will not be required to support the addition of four classrooms at North Bay the board hopes the cost per square foot of classroom can be kept below $8.25 and that, under the circumstances, the finance commission will grant its maximum aid of $8.25 per square foot. This would obviate any need of the local system to come up with money for a capital improvement.

The board also voted to ask the Mayor and Commission Council to borrow $33,500 on short term notes for the school system to use in paying for the Blue Meadow Road property. Members asked Mayor John A. Seafide, who

Courthouse committee named JPs rapped by grand jury

Provision for at least one investigator for the district attorney's office to assist in prosecuting the increased number of criminal cases was urged by the September grand jury which met four days of deliberation last Thursday and returned 29 true bills.

The grand jury of which Pat Koenen was foreman also set up a citizens committee to work with the board of supervisors to provide more adequate courthouse facilities, called for work by prisoners while serving their sentences and recommended public high school students attend sessions of Circuit Court to familiarize themselves with the operation of government and justice.

Commenting on the longest grand jury session in several years the report noted delay and difficulty in arriving at decisions because of lack of complete data on investigation of the various cases.

"We strongly recommend that files be set up by the investigating officer on each case and that complete information be obtained at the time of the arrest and commitment of the defendant," the report declared. It urged all justice of the peace courts to be more careful in keeping records complete and sending them promptly to the circuit clerk for the grand jury docket and urged local members of the legislature to secure legislation for a local aide to the DA.

Citing previous grand jury recommendations for a new courthouse, the jury named from its membership to a citizens committee on the subject Joseph F. Richardson as chairman and Koenen, Lucien E. Favre and Leonard B. Lader. They are to meet with the supervisors in November when it was indicated some plans for expansion of the courthouse may be formulated and then report to the next grand jury. After hearing from individual supervisors the jury found two proposals to go before the public on the matter: a new courthouse at a different location with an estimate of cost, and renovation and addition to the existing facility.

Use of prisoners were recommended for a "general free-living" of the building which the grand jury found "extremely dirty."

While the jail was found clean and recently painted, the report noted over-crowding and a large number of JP court prisoners not working and urged as past grand juries have that they be put to work on the county roads. "We feel that this is just as important a part of the punishment of these people as confining them, since we do not want them to feel that they have purchased their liberties at the expense of the people of Hancock County. If they are required to work they will be less likely to return as often."

Some irregular conduct by jail trustees also was noted and the sheriff was urged to be extremely careful in their selection and not permitting them access outside the jail except in the day time under surveillance. No prisoner should be permitted to transport anything into the jail except through the sheriff's office, it continued.

Lacking separate toilet facilities for men and women in the jail, the jury asked some provision for privacy in this respect.

On its recommendation this high school students witness circuit

Officers of Hancock North Central Beta Club met last week to outline future plans and consider new members. The officers are Ann Lee, president; Norman Ferguson, vice president; Edna Morris, recording secretary; Vivian Baker, corresponding secretary; John Neccaise, reporter; and Shirley Shaw, program chairman.

The present undertaking is the KO polo drive. The past two times the Betas have worked and do the same on Sept. 22. The club sponsor Homer Williams, head of the history department. Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Favre of Kila were Frank Parsons, Albert Parsons and family of Fayette.

Mrs. Rosey Shaw was in a New Orleans hospital last weekend. Association Catholic School with an enrollment of approximately 60 students is in full swing. These children attend mass daily. A Chapel has been set up in the school. Work is still going on for the school to not yet completed. It is hoped that a statue can be erected in front of the school in memory of the Blessed Virgin. Rain, lightning and thunder was the setting for the first home game and the first to be played in the new HNC Stadium. The Hawks lost to a mighty Ocean Springs, but had shown in its first two games, last week at Wade with a 13-13 tie and this week with Ocean Springs, it has made terrific progress since last season. In a pep rally Friday the students went wild with their yells and applause. Superintendent J. D. Pearson said "I have never seen such enthusiasm over anything at this school".

The students also had a time in the election of cheerleaders on Thursday.

The team has 32 members now, which is quite a gain over last year. Also has its own stadium which probably could have an effect on the morale of the team as well as the school. Many reasons have caused a majority of students as well as parents to become very interested in what some called a sport which would never catch on at the school.

The Future Farmers of America held their annual Gulf Coast meeting to elect officers for the coming year. Delegates from HNC were Lester Deaneau and Clinton Neccaise. D. J. Martin, agriculture teacher, accompanied the boys. Next Central Chapter was the right to choose president; Poplarville got vice president; Vancleave will choose secretary; Hancock N. Central was the right to choose treasurer; Stans High got reporter and Pearl River High Central will choose sentinel. The high school boys 4-H club of HNC held its first meeting last Wednesday. John W. Smith, assistant County Agent, spoke on the purpose of 4-H Clubs. Election of officers for the 1963-64 sessions also took place. Ebor Ferguson is president; Tony Neccaise, vice president; Norman Ferguson, secretary-treasurer; and Clark Smith, reporter.

Henry and Myrna Stoen of Bay St. Louis visited Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Neccaise of Kila over the weekend.

Feeling a little under the weather last Friday was Mrs. C. J. Favre, home ec. teacher at HNC.

A special note of thanks should go to coach Roland Lachner who with the help of several students operated the concession stand at the ball game Friday. (The stand is not completed and he worked a great deal of the time in the rain.)

With lightning crackling above their heads, members of the HNC marching band presented a half time show entitled "Ten 'Lil Indians" Friday night. With all the moisture in the air it was difficult to get sounds but determined the band made it and received quite a hand from the soaked crowd.

Three mill raise

In setting the millage for the 1963-64 fiscal year last week the Hancock County Board of Supervisors made four changes, all upward, from the 1962-63 tax rate. One mill was added to the mill assessed last year for repayment of the bonds on Hancock General Hospital; a one mill levy was placed for the first time to support the new Port and Harbor Commission; one-half mill was similarly set up for the Mosquito Control Commission; and one-half mill was added for the advertising fund.

The additional mill for the hospital bonds was something that could not be avoided. Because of an excess in this fund millage for this purpose was reduced last year from three to one and last week's action was not only needed to handle these bonds it merely restored half of the cut taken last year.

The one mill for the Port and Harbor Commission represents a gamble but we think a mighty good one. The $15,000 or so from this source will apparently enable engineers to commence an industrial survey of the county which when completed will apparently cost the neighborhood of $36,000. Should this survey show that development of our waterways is economically feasible then by appropriating one-half mill to the Port and Harbor Commission the county would be allowed to keep two mills of the four mill state levy for use by the commission in developing our waterways. Thus when the survey is completed and if it is feasible Hancock County can pay about $8,000 more in taxes and get $40,000 for development. Only a glance at Pascagoula and Bayou Casotte is enough to convince us this was a good bet.

We doubt if many who have slapped at the mosquitoes here during the last two summers have anything but sympathy for the half mill levy for control of these pests and many may wonder if the levy shouldn't have been doubled as was initially asked. These funds will presumably be used in a cooperative move by the coast counties plus Pearl River County and possibly St. Tammany Parish to curb this pest. It could be reasonably contended that this money is being earmarked before our commission has come up with any plan for its use or made any plans with the other cooperating political groups, but if we want to take part in any program next year action to provide any money had to be taken now. Our concern stems from other factors: is the sum provided sufficient to do any good and on the opposite side is the need for attempts at mosquito control as pressing as are other needs, such as improved schools?

Two years ago no millage was levied for the advertising fund but when the fund was nearly exhausted last year one-half mill was returned to the budget for this purpose. For next year this has been increased to one mill. The main reason advanced by Supervisor H. G. Dean for this increase was to enable the county to pay Mrs. Charles Russ $200 a month to give information on the county to newcomers and to people passing through.

Offhand this would conjure up in our mind a small tourist information office such as Louisiana has just across the state line opposite White Kitchen with this one regularly manned and not usually vacant, as is our sister state's. This, however, is not quite what it is to be it seems. First, the county has no such office or the property on which to build one. Secondly, when Mr. Dean on taking office last year first proposed hiring Mrs. Russ for this job he said she could do it from her home, though he didn't say how well.

Roster to head member campaign

Hancock County Farm Bureau launched its 1964 membership drive at a meeting Monday night at Hancock North Central School for which M. W. Peterson, field representative of the state bureau, was principal speaker. Otho Roster is chairman for the campaign. Committee team leaders include Jerry Shaw, R. W. Stewart, Sellers, Karl Goss, Leetown, L. J. Breaux, Joe Hoda, Joe Cuevas, Rocky Hill, and A. G. Harris, Kiln.

Breaux, president, said the drive will run from Oct. 1 to 15. The board of directors set the goal at 150 members for 1964. Last year there were 126 farm families enrolled.

FORMAL DISCUSSION - San Jose, right, seated at table, discussed with group of officials, the proposed new boundaries and it appeared that a formula had evolved.

H. G. Dean, Beat 1 member who earlier had indicated concurrence in a plan to create three beats along the populous coast area, took the position that all five supervisors involved should be present. L. M. Frierson, defeated Beat 2 member, has been absent for the month with illness and his successor, Dolph Kellar, had expressed a desire to be on hand for the agreement, Dean said. Hubbard observed this would throw the matter into 1964.

An Hubbard enumerated reasons to redistrict on the basis of qualified electorate to meet complaints in the suit, James A. Necaise of Beat 4 challenged this view, declaring that insofar as he was concerned he would vote for redistricting in relation to road mileage and maintenance. He noted his beat still carries a six-mill levy for an old road bond issue and inquired who would assume that.

Dean countered that he was building more roads than the other four supervisors combined and refused to go along with Hubbard's suggestion that Beat 1 include Clarendon Harbor as well as Lakeshore to equalize the electorate. "We're not being fair," he chided Hubbard, "you want to get rid of what you can't carry."

Hubbard, who lost Clarendon Harbor in the August primaries, had contended that both that precinct and all of what is now in Lakeshore, should be added to Beat 1 to equalize its voter strength. He suggested one beat running from east of Clarendon, including Waveland, and to a point in south Bay St. Louis.

"You're just as greedy and selfish as anyone I know," declared Dean to end the discussion.

The State Supreme Court then heard arguments Monday by Gulfport attorney Upton Sisson that present boundaries deny equal representation on the board in violation of state and federal constitutions. Sisson represents Powell Glass, Jr., Dr. A. K. Martindale, Jr., and Wilbert L. Argue, all of whom initiated the suit, in addition to a number of citizens who signed the complaint after Chancellor William G. Hoves last February ruled the complaints had not exhausted their remedies at law by petitioning for redistricting on given issues and bounds.

Noting the 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution is involved, Sisson told the Supreme Court he hoped the case could be conducted in the state courts without having to go into federal courts.

As is customary the case was taken under study by the court and a decision will be rendered at a later date.

New plant group created by phone firm serves Bay

For plant purposes, such as installation, repair and service of telephones, Bay St. Louis has been placed in a new grouping by Southern Bell. It was disclosed this week by R. D. Bookout, district plant manager in Hattiesburg. For all other purposes Bay St. Louis remains in the Gulfport Group and requests for telephone service or repairs will still be made through that office.

The new group, known as the Piquette group, is composed of Piquette, Bay St. Louis, Poplarville and MTO and Carl E. Ivey has been appointed manager. A Clarke County native he takes over the new position from an assignment as service supervisor in Jackson.

Ask city board to discipline tuition pupils

The county board of education Saturday adopted a resolution calling on the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District to institute disciplinary control of those students transported by the county system to attend Bay schools on a tuition basis. The motion, authored by Beat 3 trustee Lags Necaise, would permit the city trustees to expel pupils on the recommendation of the principal and city superintendent.

In an effort to clear up some of its transportation problems, the county board also went on record giving its bus drivers authority to start their routes from the end of each and use their own discretion in designating stops.

Some route revisions also were generally agreed on to relieve overloaded buses and an additional bus will be added for Gulfview School's excessively long route. The topic occupied the bulk of the three-hour session. Before adjourning until 9 a.m.

Senate to ease

The U. S. Senate passed a bill to ease the mortgage interest deduction, according to Sen. J. Bennett Johnston. The bill would allow a deduction of up to $100,000 for interest on a mortgage of up to $100,000 for a home with a value of up to $100,000. The bill also would allow a deduction of up to $50,000 for interest on a mortgage of up to $50,000 for a home with a value of up to $50,000. The bill was passed by a vote of 84-14.

ANNOUNCING A NEW CONCEPT IN HOME COMFORT

flameless ELECTRIC HEAT

A scant 10 years ago heating the home by electricity was almost unheard of. Today, more than one-quarter million families are heating with electricity — and the number is growing at the impressive rate of one every 3½ minutes.

Every day, more and more Mississippians are finding out why flameless electric heat is the up-to-date method of comfort-conditioning their homes. Here is why we believe it will pay you to look into Mississippi Power Company's heating program:

WHY should I install electric heat? you may ask. It's a sound question for any homeowner or prospective homeowner to ask, for a heating system is the heart of the modern home.

First, consider this fact: Electric heat is flameless — that is, unlike other heating systems, it requires no combustion. This means that electric heating is as clean as electric light, so there's no smoke or soot... no film or dust... to settle on walls, furniture or your favorite drapes.

Then, think of electric heating as a long term investment. In this era of rising prices, the unit price of electricity has steadily declined, while the cost of other fuels has continued to go up. This means that electricity as a fuel source is a bigger bargain than ever before — now and in the future.

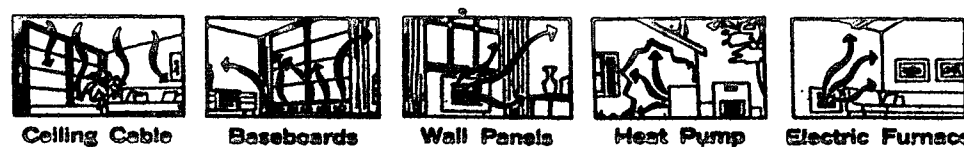

Then there's the ease of operation and maintenance. This means money in your pocket, too. There is no fire box to burn out, no pilot light to give trouble, no periodic cleaning necessary. Is it any wonder that happy homeowners are shouting the praises of wonderful electric heat? But don't take our word for it. Let us show you the results of people who are already the proud owners of modern electric heating systems.

Just call or go by your nearest Mississippi Power Company office, or, if you prefer, send in the coupon below.

Dolly peers

A very cheerful hello again to one and all! We won't deny we truly enjoyed and needed what rest we managed to sneak in during the past five months—BUT writing a column of this type must be slightly akin to a form of addiction. . . sharing news with all of you is a habit well nigh impossible to 'kick'. . . It's been more than a little frustrating to know so many little items and have no means of passing them on.

One advantage we had was finding time to visit many whom we heretofore knew just as friendly telephone voices. . . or managed to see briefly in passing on the street. . . and thusly picked up all sort of fascinating bits of information. . . We learned, for instance, that anyone who drops in on the M. D. Hennes will be offered a friendly cup of coffee, believe me! We also discovered that Miss Veronica Mohr is a most talented artist and was formerly a model in New York City where her sister, Miss Henrietta, sang with the Metropolitan Opera Co. We truly enjoyed visiting many lovely homes and were most impressed with the renovation accomplished by the Winthrop Bakers in their Beach Blvd. home. Another pleasant hour was spent under the 'Turk Carters' heavenly ceiling fans on their enormous porch. . . a cool spot on one of summer's hottest days. We also enjoyed a visit with the Charles A. Hays and admired their cat who has the distinction of having travelled from California via jet. Mrs. Hugo Samaras was another we met in the flesh for the first time. . . add the Wiley W. Tates to this category. Part of the 'vacation' was spent in the orchards, but rewarding re-fitting of too many pieces of furniture and we were amazed to discover how many others share this hobby. . . Lucille and Claude Weeks have done wonders with a number of places in their attractive home as have the R. A. Steenmeyers. . . Comdr. Roy Shores is another who is hepped on the subject. Mr. Weeks is also an accomplished artist. . . Lois and Gnu Mourigi have completed an extensive remodeling job on their Main Street home—A casually found time to visit a couple of new neighbors. . . Peggy and George Weldemeyer, formerly of Cedar Point, more recently of Vacation Lane, who now reside just a half block away on Grosvenor. . . and pretty Nancy (Mrs. Lucien, Jr.) Gen. . . the Genes anticipate the arrival of their fourth heir early next month. . . but this should pose no problem for Nancy. . . although her oldest, Bo, isn't quite four, he is so well trained that he asks permission to speak if adults

Curtin-Ling nuptials set

Miss Jean Ling and her fiancé, Richard B. Curtin of San Antonio, Tex., have completed plans for their wedding which will be an event of Saturday at 9 a.m. at St. Joseph's Chapel. Miss Millie Ling will be her sister's maid of honor and only attendant while Joseph Albee Cote of San Antonio will be best man. Ushering will be Harvey Broussard of Louisiana and William Ling of Memphis, Tenn., cousin of the bride-elect. Pre-nuptial entertaining for Miss Ling has included a linen showers given by Miss Susan Lorenzen and a lingerie shower for which Mrs. Frank Kiefer was hostess.

Marriage Licenses

Applications of local interest for marriage licenses issued during the last week by Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis are as follows: Richard Brenden Curtin, San Antonio, Tex., and Ezelda Jean Ling, Bay St. Louis; Ronald Davis Lee, Piquette, and Claudette Estelle Casvas, Catahoula.

and making. . . children with mezzos are truly refreshing in this day and age. Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Samuel's swimming pool is happily near and they are lovely about sharing it. Dr. Samuel wasn't feeling too well last month, but is looking fine once again.

Betty (Mrs. Edward P.) Phillips is a patient in a New Orleans hospital after suffering a fractured wrist in a fall recently. . . hope you'll be home soon, Betty, we all miss you.

Bundles from heaven

Less of new babies arrived in the interim. Little Jean Klein, Jr., will be three weeks old today, Sept. 19. He's to be christened Sunday. Margie Kempf is the prettiest grandma in town. . . daughter Marjorie, Jr. (Mrs. Billy) Church is the mother of a son born early in August. Also had a peep at Carmel and Wally Jeantrone's lovely infant daughter. Martin and Bert Lutzner, who recently moved into a brand new home in Gulfport, welcomed their fourth child and third son arrived at Hancock General last month.

At least a couple of people were cooperative. . . they're still 'on the nest'—Louise and Harry Lynch expect their seventh around the end of this month and Mary and Sylvia Lutzner will become parents for the fourth time come November, so at least we'll be able to report on these birds when they occur.

Also missed a number of birthdays. . . we'll send belated greetings to Beatie Haverly, Grace Bortages, Ed Harris, formerly of Waveland, now living in Meridian; to Mrs. Tarda, who's Ruth (Mrs. C. M.) Foyre's mother and Dr. W. L. McFarland—all of the above cut cakes in August.

Little Rene Watkins, daughter of the Gene Watkins and granddaughter of Louise Wymer, celebrated her third last Friday, Sept. 13. Lucille and Joe drove into the Crescent City for this occasion.

Braving the elements

Just about everyone who owns a summer home braved the mosquitoes and vended on the Coast. . . some of these included Yvonne and Jack Humphreys, the Ed Gillys, the Dudley Andrys, the A. W. Steals, Ed Rowley, Claiborne Parrillists, Oscar Frances, Jeane and Fred Lister, (Jeane underwent major surgery last month, but is feeling and looking wonderful now) Lorraine and George Fanning and the little Fannings, the John Moores of Hartsville Drive, Marian and Pinky Hartzog, who naturally visited Pinky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hartzog in their Peron Street home. Elsie and Bill Kenney and Evelyn and Lou Monti and respective children spent a lively weekend at Little Meadow a couple of weeks ago. They reported the fishing great.

Must apologize for getting no farther than having the best of intentions of answering a really lovely letter from Gloria (Mrs. C. F.) Bolin of Cupertino, Calif. Gloria's parents, the Henry Capdepens, spent a fabulous vacation with her, Chuck and the children in June. We'll also apologize to another faithful correspondent, Hazel (Mrs. Charles) Dahlin, for being such a lousy letter writer!

We're late on this one too—but are so pleased at how well Marie Lyons looks these days after having very complicated surgery at Mayo Clinic in June, we must include her in our get well wishes.

Picnic time

A gay picnic held at Cus' pool last Saturday was made a day long to be remembered by small fry present, by the appearance of Wayne Mack (the Great Mac Nux of tv fame) at his attractive wife Jan. They accompanied Kate and Roy Saux. . . others eating, swimming and the more ambitious, playing softball included Gerri and Sam Blanchard, Helen and Will Bortages, Jane and Owen Williams, Josie and Clarence Herbig, Laura and Fred Reuger, Jane and Bobby Beavenanti, Buck Ladner, Kathryn and Billy Steele, your reporter and spouse and members of the younger set too numerous to mention. Missed the usual visit with Miss Rita Coo—she was off on one of her numerous trips. . . this time, Florida.

Lillian and Dominic Sander, son Norman and daughter Norman (Mrs. Tommy) Karl were among those from here attending the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and

We finally had the opportunity to meet little Mairzy doats, the Hiltre Ogden's intellectual poodle mentioned occasionally in the column. Mairzy's a doll. . . I'm quite sure she understood exactly what I said when I told her 'tell mamma she has company!'

Admired some really striking kitchen curtains in Elmo and Hamilton Cusnard's new home and was surprised to discover that the man of the house had picked out the design all by himself.

Cater—she possesses the most complete utility room we've yet to view—it's more than a utility room, but don't know how else to classify it—it's complete with washer dryer, sewing machine, working table and even boasts a sofa if she should feel like taking a nap.

Ann Langley has returned to Waveland Drug after spending her vacation in Hancock County—she's missed one golf bladder, but feeling much improved since the loss. Others on the sick list include Gloria Peterson, Pep Peppers (one of our most favorite people) and Margie Anderson... though we're gratified to hear she's much better. Mrs. Katherine Wilson is another we were happy to see up and around again... she was seriously ill, but now over the hump, has returned to her desk at City County Memorial Library.

Will power pays

Ran into Mary (Mrs. Oats) Winnard while grocery shopping recently and can't resist a comment on the results of her diet—she looks absolutely wonderful. Doris Seuzemans is another... she's surely able to wear daughter Cheryl's outfits now.

Congratulations are in order for newlyweds Margaret and Charleston Laddner, Jr.

Welcome Ann Porter... newest member of the Echo family—and that's just what we are—I've missed everyone so far for the past few months that I feel like celebrating my return.

Edith Carver (Mrs. Warren, of course), has discovered the ultimate in spray use—we can't reveal the brand name as that would be passing out free advertising, but she accidentally hit on a formula which not only provided a free oil treatment, but also eliminated mosquitoes, gnats, etc. For some strange reason she wasn't really too elated about the innovation.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY—Wonderfully welcome blue grey clouds laden with much needed moisture and even more welcome September breezes; golden rod, samac, vari-colored sweet gum and darkening pyracantha berries, all harbingers of the season and the sound of the school bell chiming at ten, noon and afternoon recess... summer's ended and life resumes its routine course.

Tigers thwart Pirates

Two fumbles and a sustained drive enabled the Bay High Tigers to down the Pass Christian Pirates 20-0 in a Gulf Coast Conference game at Pass Christian Friday night.

Bay High kicked off to the Pirates, who were unable to move and had to punt to Bay High's 29 yard line from which point the Tigers moved up the field for a touchdown in 18 plays.

The drive was climaxed by a 17-yard keeper around right end by quarterback Johnny Penton. End Larry Johnson added the extra point from placement.

A second quarter Bay High punt was fumbled by Pass Christian's Steve Coker and recovered by Billy Thomas on the 11-yard line. From that point Dick Watts went over in two plays. The extra point attempt was not good and Bay High led at half time 13-0.

In the last quarter Bay High added up its final score when Thomas picked up a Pirate fumble on the 31 and raced it over for a touchdown. Johnson added the point.

Another fumble on the Bay High seven ended Pass Christian's main threat after the Pirates had driven 70 yards. The drive featured the running of fullback Don Hertel and a Coker to Richard Scarborough pass.

Both teams picked up 16 first downs with Bay High gaining 135 yards on the ground to Pass Christian's 120. The Pirates completed 1 pass in 6 attempts for 19 yards while the Tigers completed 2 passes in 5 attempts for 17 yards and had one pass intercepted.

Bay High now leads the Gulf Coast Conference with a 2-0 record against top foes.

Bay High returns home this Friday to entertain the Pearl River Central Blue Devils in a conference game.

Rocks in grid debut vs. Hahnville Sat.

Saturday night St. Stanislaus' Rock-a-Chows open their 1963 grid schedule against the favored Hahnville, La., Tigers, who last year trounced the local team 30-0 and have already won twice this year. Game time is 8 p.m.

Captain Billy Murphy, now in his second year as head coach of the Rocks, has switched to a winged-T attack and will probably start Curtis Matheson, letterman at end last year, at the key quarterback post. Other lettermen returning are Peter Beasley, and Richard Stinson and Howard Reibichaux, tackles, Mike Andrews and George Rick, guards, Dusty and Doc Rhodes, halfbacks, and Lenny Aucutt, fullback. In addition, Wayne Carr, who lettered at end as a sophomore but was cut last year, is again available.

In the line probable starters, according to Murphy, are Dale Burke and Wayne Carr or Peter Beasley, ends; Howard Reibichaux and Richard Stinson, tackles; Mike Andrews and George Rick, guards; and Paul Weaver, center. In the backfield nothing seemed definite early this week but starters should come from these: Curtis Matheson or Crickford Brodford at quarterback; NO FORESTRY QUEEN

There will be no contest this year for Hancock County forestry queen, Area Forester G. I. Purvis said this week.

Dusty Rhodes or James O'Neal, left half; Doc Rhodes or Peter Merritt, right half; and Lenny Aucutt or Charles Lovings, fullback.

Rounding out the small Rock squad are: Mike Griffin, Neil Pick, Ossie Blaize, Mariano Quas, Barry Farve, George Anderson, Hans Schmitt and Ned Heath.

The 1963 schedule in: Sept. 21, Hahnville, here; Sept. 27, McDonough, here; Oct. 4, Thibodaux College, there; Oct. 11, Ocean Springs, there; Oct. 18, Assumption, here; Oct. 26, Ben Franklin, here; Nov. 1, Buras, here; Nov. 8, Moss Point, here; and Nov. 16, Notre Dame, there.

Locker dumps Jones Tigers in opener here

The Locker High of Wiggins defeated the Volens C. Jones Tigers 34-6 in a home game Friday night. It was the season opener for Jones.

Jones scored its only touchdown in the first half when Ulysses Sheppard picked up a fumble on the visitors' 25 yard-line and raced the remaining 25 yards for the touchdown. Jones went to the half time break trailing only 14-6, but Locker added three second half touchdowns and turned a close game into a rout.

Capt. Willie Bradley singled out Capt. Cleve Williams, co-captain Lory Haynes, Ulysses Sheppard and Larry Peters as standouts on defense.

Friday night Jones traveled to Lacombe, La., to play the Lacombe Tigers.

Capt. Bradley said the team is in top physical condition with no major injuries occurring in the Wiggins game.

Teen Times

For the past beautiful peaceful five months, we've heard light from members of the younger set other than "what will we have Teen Times again?????"

Soooo, now you have it, under one condition... we've reiterated the fact that writing a teen-age column is well nigh impossible without assistance from YOU—this is your column and we've neither the time nor inclination to dig into your private lives without cooperation from one and all...

So, we'll try something a bit different in the way of pleasing news... as of now, reporters are appointed from each school... we'll name one, two, three or more from local institutions from whom we'll expect to hear the latest news weekly... say before noon each Sunday... just phone HO7-4231, or write P. O. Box 230, Bay St. Louis, giving names, dates, and other details regarding accomplishments, major and minor, parties, birthdays and who's going with whom at the present.

We're naming a few from whom we expect to hear faithfully... but we will appreciate any tidbit from anyone so inclined... we'll start with Bay High—Christine and Phyllis Sauer, Tom Mayfield, Ellen Western, Jeannie Rutherford, Jane and Riley Walker and Ellen McDonald should be equipped to keep us informed from this source... We'll expect to hear from Linda Munch, Mary Ann Becker, Debbie and Sista Barhages, Sharon Piazza, Diana Carver and Charlotte Price from St. Joseph; Bobby Saux, Jay Lo-gasse, Terry Markel and Henry Jewelle, Stanislaus, and Nancy McDonald, Gary Varborough and Zack Butterworth from Christ Episcopal... we repeat, we're grateful for news from any source, but we anticipate reports from the above named weekly!

Loss of new students in every class... we'll welcome Bonnie Parks, a former resident of Seattle, Wash., as a member of the Seventh grade at North Bay... According to our statistics (and we're truly lousy at these), the largest number of local high school graduates flocked to Southern in Hattiesburg earlier this month... freshmen included Mary Lou Herlihy, J. P. Compagna, Gaudier Mayfield, Christy Torgerson, Bob McCutchen, Karen Williams, who incidentally passed band auditions with flying colors and is a member of the "Pride of Mississippi" marching band; Louise Babin and Anita Giani, pretty Betty Smith, after a year of life in the world of business, has now entered Pearl River Junior College... she's an addition to the famed String of Pearls as are Mary Lee Garcia, Lora Taylor and Irene Thomas... her twin, Teddie, is socializing with other gridiron hopefuls at LSU.

Other local losses and gains making names for themselves as FRIC include Jimmy Giametta, he earned a scholarship as editor of the school publication, The Eagle; David Linda Mammarella—she's a secondary counselor and of course from Bay... their scholarships are due to better training tables.

The Misses attract the usual number... old hands include Judy Cox and Bonnie Russell, Gail Stewart, who summered in Michigan, Kay Durkin... she vacationed in Chicago, and Tami Blackland, earned this school last week... newcomers to LSU are Max Trullin, Debbie Cahan (of New Orleans and Washland) and Rhyne Rensch, Millard Parker, a PRC grad and Edith Trank, (she attended MSCW) enter their junior year at Southern... others returning to Hattiesburg are Ann Bryant, Roy Saux, Gary Burrow, Sue Branch, Patti White, Carol Western, Jim Johnston, Nita Kay Erwin and Paula Crider, Harry Shatzack has joined Paul Miller at Millsaps... Ann Clark left for her sophomore year at Rice last Friday... Ann typed like mad for the Corps of Engineers during her vacation months.
